- Multimodal Reasoning: Proposed Visual Abstract Thinking (VAT), a novel reasoning paradigm inspired by human visual cognition. VAT enables MLLMs to reason more effectively by leveraging visual abstractions rather than explicit verbal Chain-of-Thought. By guiding models to focus on semantic and geometric concepts, VAT achieves a 17% improvement over the GPT-4o baseline and consistently outperforms Chain-of-Thought prompting on visual perception and reasoning tasks, while requiring fewer tokens and delivering higher performance.
- 4D Escape-Room Environment for Multimodal Reasoning: Proposed a customizable 4D (spatio-temporal) escape-room environment to evaluate multimodal/omni LLM agents through free-form exploration, emphasizing active perception and spatio-temporal cross-modal alignment.
- Self-Evolving Agents: Exploring how to strengthen agent performance by enabling generalization from weak to strong supervision.

Research Intern, Pervasive Human-Computer Interaction Lab (π Lab), Tsinghua University

supervised by Prof. Chun Yu

Sep. 2024 – May 2025

- Psychological Agent: Implemented a Cognitive Behavioral Therapy (CBT) expert agent in a large-model-based AI psychological counseling system deployed on the CYL 12355 Youth Service Hotline (Fujian). The agent adheres to structured CBT protocols, including automatic thought identification, cognitive distortion analysis, and behavior-oriented interventions. [Related Report]
